

Killarney School Newsletter

February 2018

Killarney School thanks Val Caldwell for spending a day and evening with our students and parents. Her experience and expertise on the topic of safety practises with the internet and social media were very much appreciated and needed in this busy high tech digital world we are raising our kids in. We are also proud to report that Val was very impressed with our students as an audience and our school Community as a whole!! Go Raiders!!

Here are some great resources for parents:

Biggest take away for moms, dads and all care givers: Communicate with your youth, talk WITH them and not AT them!

Thanks Val, PAC and all parents who came to our info evening!

Interests

Interests will set you on a pathway based on what's important to you.

Your interests are activities you do because you enjoy them. Activity that offers personal satisfaction (mentally and emotionally) greatly contribute to successful careers. Identifying your work-related interests is an important part of career planning. Most workers report being satisfied with their career decisions if it includes activities that they enjoy.

Do you know your interests? Write them down or discuss them with family when making any type of career decision. Stats Canada (2015) now show more people working past the age of 66 and spending 1700 hours/year away from home working. Enjoy what you do!
